

MATH50010 - Probability for Statistics

Unseen Problem 7

Suppose a flea hops randomly on the vertices of a triangle, with all jumps equally likely (and 0 probability of staying in the same place). Find the probability that after  $n$  hops, the flea is back where it started.